Dear Dick,

You are cordially invited to nominate participants for the next single-level, interagency, politico-military game, ETA I-68. The objective of this simulation will be to examine the impact of British withdrawal east of Suez -- Arabian Sea/Indian Ocean area -- on United States interests and foreign policy. As usual, knowledgeable and responsible officials of interested departments, agencies and commands will participate.

The game will be conducted in the Pentagon from 12 through 26 November 1968. It will be organized to include two teams and a Control Group. Participating teams will represent the United States and the Soviet Union. Control will represent third nations, treaty organizations, nature and other influencing factors. The enclosed memorandum indicates the desired number of participants and contains detailed administrative information for use by your point of contact.

Central Intelligence Agency participants have contributed significantly to the success of previous games and I hope that you will provide your usual fine complement of key officials to take part in this exercise.

Sincerely,

Bes

EARLE G. WHEELER
